

The Legend of the Red Lake

Once upon a time , there was a very beautiful girl living near the lake. She had green eyes, black hair and a wonderful body. One day, she went to the village market. There she saw such a strong boy that he could kill a bear with his bare hands. He was one of the most talented boys in the village: he sang beautifully and he was good at building houses and carriages. As soon as they saw each other, they fell in love. It was love at first sight. The boy gave her a silk scarf as a gift and proposed to her. But they didn't get married because he was taken in the army. The girl waited for him every day but he did not appear. She went to the fountain every evening to cry for her love.

One Sunday afternoon, she was found by a robber who promised her gold, silver and diamonds castels if she would marry him. Rigid to her cry, he tried to force her, but the girl got scared, she cried and she started to shout begging for help. The mountain endured of her, and, with deafening sound, the rocks trembling down, covering everything in their way, even the robber and the girl.

In that Place, a new lake was formed with red water because of the blood of the two who were buried alive.
